10/3/78

Dear Mrs. McNamara,

I'm sorry about the long delay and apologize for it.

Having to take in the show-trial hearings atop an already over-loaded program of work has put me farthur behind.

Beginning with illness several years ago I have had to reorient my life and work. What now is of primary interest to me it bringing to light as much as I can of previously suppressed records. This requires an enormous amount of effort and what for me is a considerable amount of time in court and in preparing for court.

Now I don't even find time for writing, which is my primary interest.

All of this means that although from time to time I make the effort in reality it is impossible for me to undertake any new work or efforts.

I hope you can understand this.

And I am sorry for the long delay in answering your letter, which did reach me promptly.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
